

2019
The University of Tokyo
Graduate School of Information Science and Technology
Doctoral Student Special Incentives Program
(IST-RA)
Application Guidelines

This goal of this program is to encourage outstanding doctoral students to take part in scientific research at The Graduate School of Information Science and Technology at The University of Tokyo (hereafter “this Graduate School”). Within this, the program’s aims are the promotion of scientific research, fulfilling research programs, and education of doctoral students as young researchers.

1. Eligibility

Those who meet any of the following criteria (however, individuals planning admission for September and individuals who will be enrolled in October should replace “April 1, 2019” with “September 21, 2018”):

- ① Individuals who are, at the time of application, enrolled in a doctoral program at this Graduate School and plan to remain enrolled beyond April 1, 2019.
- ② Individuals planning or desiring April 1, 2019 admission to a doctoral program at this Graduate School.

However, students who fall under any of the following are not eligible:

- Students taking a leave of absence as of April 1, 2019.
- Students whose enrollment period exceeds the standard duration of study (excluding leaves of absence) as of April 1, 2019.
- Students who fit the exclusion criteria outlined in section #7 of this guideline regarding other scholarships.

Additionally, students enrolled at this Graduate School who are employed and receiving a salary and are not eligible.

2. IST-RA: Number of Recipients and Monthly Disbursement Amounts

Number of recipients: Limited (number will be within the scope of the available budget)

Monthly disbursement amount: 120,000 yen

3. Selection Process

Selection will be conducted by a selection committee, with application documents (application form, evaluation form from academic supervisor) and course results and records as the basis for selection. Interviews may be required as well.

4. Payment Period

April admission (including planned admission): April 2019 to March 2020.

However, the standard length of the course of study, which has been established in article 2, clause 5 of The University of Tokyo Graduate School Rules and Regulations, cannot be exceeded.

For individuals planning admission for September and planning to enroll in October, the payment period is October 2018 to September 2019. However, the standard length of the course of study, which has been established in article 2, clause 5 of The University of Tokyo Graduate School Rules and Regulations, cannot be exceeded.

5. Application Procedures

(1) How to apply

- ① Application documents must be submitted directly to the relevant department office or may be sent via postal mail.

*Admission applicants for April 2019 should submit their documents to the department to which they are applying

- ② If sending documents by postal mail, all application documents (described in section 2 below) should be placed in an A4 envelope and mailed via “registered mail.” Write “Application Enclosed for IST-RA” on the envelope.
- ③ The application period is from May, 24 2018 (Thursday) to June 15, 2018 (Friday) at 4:00 PM (excluding periods when departments may be closed). Mailed documents must arrive no later than June 15, 2018 (Friday).

(2) Application Documents

- ① Application form (Form 1)

Completed form provided by this Graduate School. Please include one original and seven copies.

- ② Evaluation form from individual expected to be academic supervisor in April 2019 (Form 2)

On the form provided by this Graduate School, write the name of the academic supervisor expected in April 2019. One original and seven copies, sealed.

Use a #2 envelope (for use with A4 documents) and on the outside, write the name of the applicant and the name of the academic supervisor.

NOTE: Individuals planning for admission in September and enrollment in October must write the name of the individual expected to be academic supervisor in September 2018.

- ③ Transcripts: undergraduate, master’s, and doctoral transcripts. One original and seven copies.

- ④ Envelope: Selection results will be sent via mail. Include a #2 (A4) envelope addressed to the applicant and attach a 120 yen stamp.

6. Selection Announcements and Acceptance Procedures

- (1) Selection results will be announced to the applicants in late July, 2018.
- (2) Selected individuals will receive both a notification and information regarding procedures to be completed within a specific time period in order to accept the offer (transmission of bank account details, documentation submission, etc.). If the outlined procedures are not completed within the designated time period, offers to applicants will be considered declined.

7. Management with other scholarships and awards

- (1) Any student who falls under one or more of these criteria at the start of the IST-RA incentive program is ineligible to participate in the IST-RA program.

- ① MEXT Scholarship for International Students
- ② Foreign government-sponsored students (including international students in the Chinese Government Graduate Student Overseas Study Program via the Chinese government)
- ③ JSPS Research Fellowships for Young Scientists (Tokubetsu Kenkyuin)
- ④ Special Scholarship for International Student recipients, University of Tokyo (Tokyo University Fellowships)
- ⑤ Students receiving subsidies via the Program for Leading Graduate Schools
- ⑥ Recipients of any other type of scholarship or stipend in the monthly amount of 120,000 yen or more, for which there is no obligation to return.

If, at the time of application, you fall under one of these criteria, but you will stop receiving funds the month before this payment period begins, you may apply for this incentive program. Applicants in this situation should note this on their application form and report their status the first month of payments for this program.

- (2) The following scholarships/fund sources may be used in conjunction with this incentive program, except in cases where specific arrangements for scholarships not to be used with other plans have already been defined.

May be used in combination:

- ① Students receiving a JASSO loan,
- ② Students receiving JASSO Honors Scholarship for Privately Financed International Students (Gakushu Shoureihi),
- ③ Students employed as technical or clerical assistants by the University of Tokyo,
- ④ Individuals working as RAs via the University of Tokyo's Research Assistant

Implementation Guidelines

- ⑤ Persons who are exempt from full or half tuition based on paragraph 1, Article 39 of regulations at the University of Tokyo,
- ⑥ Recipients of any other type of scholarships or stipend in the monthly amount of 120,000 yen or below, for which there is no obligation to return, and student loan recipients.

Confirm all program details before applying to this incentive program. In particular, students with scholarships/fund sources from public service organizations should thoroughly examine conditions before applying.

For research assistants (RAs), the combination with the IST-RA total may not exceed 200,000 yen per month. If the total is in excess of 200,000 yen, the IST-RA amount will decrease.

8. IST-RA Award Recipient Responsibilities

- (1) Beneficiaries of the IST-RA program must apply for the JSPS (特別研究員) Research Fellowship for academic year 2020 in the spring of 2019. However, students who will complete a doctoral program between April 2019 and March 2020 (for individuals admitted in October, this period is between September 2018 and September 2019) are exempt from this rule. Note: Individuals who neglect to complete this application may (upon failure to complete the application) be asked to withdraw from the program and return funds they have received. Additionally, failing to complete the JSPS application will be considered as a requirement unfulfilled for this program, and will result in a declined application.
- (2) Beneficiaries of this incentive program must submit a monthly report in a prescribed style regarding research progress and other uses for the support funds they are provided with. Additionally, if a program beneficiary has decided to accept funds from another scholarship, RA program, etc., and thus must withdraw from the program, the applicable department office must be informed as soon as possible (beneficiary must still submit the monthly report).

9. Precautions and Notes

- (1) If the applicant does not provide all required documents within the acceptance period, the application will not be accepted.
- (2) Program participants must comply with the items stipulated in The University of Tokyo Graduate School of Information Science and Technology Doctoral Course Special Incentives Program Guidelines.
- (3) If false statements are made in the information contained on the application form, applicants' participation in the program may be revoked, or they may be asked to return the funds they have received.

- (4) For individuals applying for admission in April or September, even if acceptance is granted (following selection results) and the 2019 entrance examination at this Graduate School is passed, if admission procedures are not completed, acceptance will be revoked.
- (5) This guide is based on the academic calendar in use at the time of document creation. If any changes should occur in the academic calendar, payment periods and the related information will be determined in accordance with those changes.

May 2018